Simpson saga is never really over, the former NFL star and former Los Angeles nightclub owner, was arrested in Las Vegas on Thursday morning, according to reports. However, Simpson's attorney, Malcolm LaVergne, told reporters that the former athlete was not on the run and denied the arrest was related to the 1994 murders of ex-wife Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend Ron Goldman. Police issued a warrant for the arrest of Simpson in Las Vegas on a felony charge of kidnapping and on two misdemeanor counts of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, including Simpson's rented Cadillac. "Mr. Simpson is innocent of all charges," LaVergne told reporters. "He is not on the run. He is in Las Vegas, he is not fleeing. This is an unfortunate and bizarre coincidence." Simpson, 65, was arrested at 12:25 a.m. local time by Las Vegas police after he pulled into a hotel parking garage. Simpson, wearing a tan pantsuit and flip-flops, was handcuffed and driven away in a white Lincoln Navigator, and given a court appearance at 1 p.m., LaVergne said. Simpson was not taken before a judge, and a bail hearing is scheduled for Thursday afternoon. Simpson was taken to Las Vegas police headquarters for processing and was then booked. Simpson had been visiting family friends in Las Vegas, and was released from a mental institution there in October after being deemed mentally competent to stand trial for a pair of Las Vegas hotel killings and the 1994 slayings of Brown and Goldman. Simpson was acquitted in 1995 on double-murder charges in the slayings. For more on this story, click here. And now for the latest on some of the other story lines breaking Thursday: There is no single person in the country, James Brown Jr., a lawyer for Goldmans family, told CNN's Piers Morgan. "There's not a shred of evidence, no credible evidence that anyone other than O.J. Simpson committed the murder," he said. Rep. Eric Cantor's spokeswoman, Katherine Raines, told CNN, "Our office has no comment." Rep. Peter King, R-New York, said in a statement, "The Simpson family is relieved that this nightmare is over and their family can get some rest and closure. They have always maintained that O.J. Simpson
