Auto Clicker is a useful software tool which provides a simple means of automatically clicking a custom area on the screen. Simplified interface The installation process does not last longer than a few seconds and it does not bring any kind of unpleasant surprises, while the interface you are met with presents a design which can only be described as simple, as it only encompasses a few buttons and several boxes. Consequently, we can safely say all user categories can learn how to handle it with great ease, including those with little or no previous experience with computers. The settings page The settings page is also a part of the software which can be accessed easily by double-clicking the "help" icon, so you do not have to go looking for it elsewhere. Here you can adjust the parameters such as number of clicks, time gap between them (expressed in milliseconds), horizontal and vertical axis and screen size. Support There is a tutorial included as well, which can be accessed via the aforementioned "help" button, as well as the forum which can be reached by clicking the link "help" on the right of the screen. The latter is a community where users can ask and help each other. Support website The support website is accessible through a link which can be accessed via the software's "help" button, and it is a part of the community of users. Save settings to PAT file This software utility enables you to automatically generate mouse clicks, according to patterns configured by you. To be more accurate, you can input the number of clicks, the time gap between them (expressed in milliseconds) and the horizontal and vertical axis of the screen. Aside from that, it is possible to save these parameters to the hard drive using a PAT file extension, so that you can also use it at a later date. This way you can also create multiple patterns and easily switch between them. There are no other notable options incorporated. Clicking enabled The software is designed to click anywhere, provided you have configured it to do so. So, if the mouse cursor is at the edge of the screen, it will still be able to click and drag. Support There is a tutorial included as well, which can be accessed via the aforementioned "help" button, as well as the forum which can be reached by clicking the link "help" on the right of the screen.
