In 1983, the first version of AutoCAD was introduced to the market. Autodesk markets AutoCAD as a software product for a wide range of users, from beginners and hobbyists to experienced engineers and architects. The software has been licensed to various government agencies, as well as to the private sector. The AutoCAD product line has expanded and been continually upgraded to meet market demand. AutoCAD is distributed and marketed worldwide through an extensive distribution network that includes offices in Australia, Brazil, Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Russia, Spain, the United Kingdom, the United States, and throughout Europe. AutoCAD's strength is in the visual representation of mathematical models and their associated geometry. It is used in various disciplines and applications, from the drafting and design of original engineering concepts, to the construction of working models, and the fabrication of prototypes. There is a vast range of software available for 3D printing, and it is used in the production of virtually all types of 3D models. It is often the first time a 3D model is made, and 3D printing software is an integral part of CAD packages. AutoCAD is owned by Autodesk, Inc., which was founded in 1978 by inventor Carl Bass. AutoCAD is a registered trademark and service mark of Autodesk, Inc. AutoCAD's history AutoCAD began in the 1980s as a small program for small business users. In the early years, it was distributed primarily through IBM-compatible personal computers with 32 MB of random access memory (RAM), including the Apple II, IBM PC, Compaq, PC XT and IBM PS/2. It was distributed on floppy disks. The first version of AutoCAD was released in December 1982. It was created by computer artist and programmer Carl Bass, who was on the staff of the Rand Corporation at the time. The name AutoCAD was created to differentiate it from the other programs in the CAD market. The name was chosen to imply “automated,” because it did not require the user to interact with a graphics terminal. AutoCAD came in three versions: AutoCAD 3.0, 3.1, and 3.5. The operating system for these early versions was DOS, a graphical operating system created by Microsoft. The first version of AutoCAD was based on the AUTOCAD program developed by AUTOSLAB software company,

During his Sunday commentary on "Fox & Friends," former House Speaker Newt Gingrich suggested that former Obama Administration officials like former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton should be charged with felonies for what they did in the Uranium One case. After playing a clip of President Donald Trump reportedly urging Attorney General Jeff Sessions to prosecute Clinton, Newt said, “Well, I’m not going to say that Jeff Sessions can do that, but I think it would be appropriate to charge Hillary Clinton and others for treason.” “They committed a crime,” he continued. “To steal uranium, to sell 20% of American uranium to Russia when the Russians were trying to kill us?” “Why did it take all this time to find it out?” he asked. “It took the FBI to start an investigation. Why did it take the FBI for four years to say, ‘We’re investigating these people?’” After playing a clip of Trump seemingly telling Sessions to prosecute Clinton, Gingrich said, “I think it would be appropriate to charge Hillary Clinton and others for treason.” Newt said, “My attitude is that they’ve got to answer for the fact that if you are committing treason and you are causing the deaths of Americans, and you’re causing the deaths of our people, you should go to jail.” He went on to say, “And people should be asked why it took all these years to find out.” Gingrich then played a clip of Trump saying that he asked Sessions to prosecute Hillary Clinton and said that Sessions “looks like he’s going to be tough on crime.” (h/t The Hill) Follow Trent Baker on Twitter @Magnifi af5dca3d97

Webshots Monday, June 29, 2009 I have a few questions if you will indulge me. Why is this not a free giveaway? I understand you want to ask for an email and contact me to enter, but you could give away all the tickets for free. This could be a huge idea. A review? That's ok I don't need a review. I don't know how I feel about a review. I've never done one, but I could see myself doing it in the future. I've always enjoyed reading reviews and have taken into consideration what people like and what they don't like, but a review is something that I don't feel comfortable doing. A contest? This could be great! I would like to give the winner a big thank you for their support and then maybe you give them the chance to win something too. I think it would be great. What do you think? I do know the reason it is not a free giveaway is because I need to be able to contact the winner. You see I would send you the postcards and if you would like to purchase more tickets than just one you could, but I can't send you the postcards if you won. If you don't want to purchase more tickets than just one, it would be completely useless. If it's the giveaway that I don't feel comfortable doing, what are you asking me to do exactly? Hi Michael, I am so
